Wheel Weeders

Weed competition causes greater reductions in crop yield potential than any other single factor. Small scale farmers world wide suffer the same problem. They attempt to control the weeds with tools, often designed for some other purpose, which operate very slowly and often loosen the soil thus creating conditions for valuable moisture loss.

The burden of this work falls on women and young persons who already have a heavy workload.

Trebestantes lunded gois ca cattering is to the cogree the difficitation catter due xisting develop meroper girlo van in

